

BUILDING NOTES.

A. Behrend has been given a permit to erect a $25,000 business building at 821 Seventh street northwest. The plans were made by Architect Germuller.

Architect Frederick B. Pyle has made plans for a stone dwelling for William E. DeWitt at Glen Echo Heights; it will be two stories, cellar, and attic, 32x45; cost, $5,000.

Edwin Baltzley will have a stone residence built at Glen Echo Heights from plans by Architect Victor Mindeff; it will be two stories and cellar, 40x50; cost, $7,000.

A new set of working plans for the proposed Emergency Hospital is being prepared in the office of the District Inspector of Buildings. Proposals for the construction of the hospital will be opened about March 1.

Architects Hornblower and Marshall have plans for a residence for Mr. Charles J. Bell which builder Morrison will erect at 1327 Connecticut avenue. It will be a three story and basement dwelling. It will cost about $14,000.

Architect Gray has made plans for a stone dwelling which Mr. F. W. Pilling will erect at 1539 Sixteenth street northwest, for Mr. Randolph Kauffman. It will be a three story and basement dwelling. It will cost about $14,000.

Plans have been prepared by Architect Mindeff for a dwelling for S. D. Smolnoff on Stoughton street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets; it will be three stories and basement, with stone-trimmed front of red brick; cost, $10,000.

Architect Victor Mindeff is making plans for the Hall of Philosophy, which will be one of the buildings that the National Chautauqua will erect at Glen Echo Heights. It will be a stone structure, two stories in height, 60x72 feet; cost, $15,000.

Jonas, Gibbs & Co. have plans and have contract to remodel house No. 1222 F street northwest, for Woods & Co. A new front of press brick and Ohio stone will be erected and a large iron vault built in the rear. The alterations and repairs will cost $5,000.

Architect Leon E. Dessez has plans for an Episcopal church that will be built at Leesburg, Loudoun County, Va.; it will be a one-story stone structure, 50x100, in the Romanesque style; at the rear a one-story Sunday-school room, also of stone, will be built.

Architect J. G. Meyers is making plans for a residence that Thomas Graham will have built on S street, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets; it will be three stories and cellar, 21x73 feet, with base of Hummelstown brownstone and porch of same material; cost, $7,000.

Builder Charles A. Langley has a contract to erect a three story and basement residence, 44x72, for Dr. Frederick D. May, at 1437 Rhode Island avenue. It will be a double house with front of press brick; cost, $50,000; design and plans by Architect Harvey L. Page.

A. S. Johnson's new residence on N street, between Ninth and Tenth streets, has been commenced. It will have a brownstone and brick front twenty-three feet wide, with a depth of eighty feet. It will be three stories high and finished in hardwood. T. F. Schneider is the architect and J. B. Williamson the builder.

Architect James F. Denson is now finishing plans for the law school building for Georgetown University on the south side of E street, between Fifth and Sixth streets northwest. It will be a three story and cellar structure, 52x85. The front will be press brick, Hummelstown brownstone and terra cotta; cost, $30,000.

Architects Fava, Naef & Co. are making plans for a three story 50 room hotel that will be built at Cornwall, Va. It will have stone base and frame superstructure; cost, $25,000. They have also the commission to make plans for the Christian Church that will be built at Pulaski City, Va. It will be a two story stone structure in the old Colonial style; cost, $25,000.

The competitive design submitted by Architects Barry, Sampson, and Andrews for the new building that the American Security and Trust Company will erect on the north side of G street, near Fourteenth street, has been accepted. The design provides for a building 32x100, with a height of fifty-six feet from grade line to roof. The front will be of rock-faced Georgia gray marble.

Architect A. P. Clark, Jr., is making plans for a dwelling that Rev. J. H. Black will have built on Fourteenth street above Florida avenue. It will be three stories and cellar, 24x58, of press brick and Hummelstown brownstone, cost, $6,500. Adjoining another house of same dimensions and almost similar in design will be built for Lewis Jamison from plans now in the hands of the same architect; it will cost $6,500.

Mr. T. F. Schneider, the well-known architect, is about to commence the erection of a handsome residence for Mr. W. Nordlinger on N street, between Thirtieth and Thirty-first streets. This house will have a frontage of forty feet and a depth of about eighty; it will be built of the finest brick and will be handsomely finished inside in hardwood and will be heated by steam throughout. This will undoubtedly be the most costly house in Georgetown. Darby & Davis are the contractors.

Work will be commenced at once on a building which Mr. W. W. Burdette is to erect at the corner of Rhode Island avenue and Seventh street. It will consist of the three stories on the ground floor. The corner one will have a width of forty feet on Seventh street and ninety-two feet on Rhode Island avenue. The other two stories will each have a frontage of twenty-one feet on Seventh street by a depth of ninety feet. The building will be two stories high with flats above, and will be substantially built with walls of sufficient strength to carry two additional stories, which may be put on in the future. The roof will be steep and of slate; pressed brick will be the material, and balconies will surround the whole second story. T. F. Schneider is the architect, and the contract for building has been awarded to Frank H. Duchay.

Communications of any kind, regarding Real Estate, Building, and Architecture, are solicited, and will be cheerfully received. They must be sent in not later than Thursday afternoon of each week, and addressed to Real Estate Editor, Sunday Herald.
